

Young Neuroscientist Symposium

XVII SENC Meeting, 27 September 2017, ALICANTE

Organizers: Young Investigators Committee from SENC

This symposium is organized for and by young neuroscientists, as a forum to showcase their research and foster communication and potential collaborations between investigators from different institutions, both inside and outside Spain. Scientific presentations will be selected by the Young Investigators Committee of SENC, in coordination with national and international organizations of young investigators, such as SRUK (Spanish Researchers in the UK), CERFA (Spanish Researchers in Germany) and CRE (Scientists Returned to Spain). In addition to the regular presentations, we will have a keynote speaker, an established investigator with aspects of his/her career of relevance and inspirational to young neuroscientists. The scientific session will be closed with a round table discussion, with the participation of investigators from different stages in their careers, including scientific policy makers. The tentative program for this activity is as follows:

27 September 2017

- 8:45-9:00 Opening remarks
Víctor Borrell, Chair of Young Investigator Committee
- 9:00-9:45 Keynote speaker (to be announced)
- 9:45-10:00 Coffee break
- 10:00-10:20 Selected talk #1
- 10:20-10:40 Selected talk #2
- 10:40-11:00 Selected talk #3
- 11:00-11:20 Coffee break
- 11:20-12:30 Round table (members to be announced):
  - Established investigator from SENC Mentorship Program
  - Tenure-track investigator (Ramón y Cajal)
  - Postdoc fellow returning to Spain
  - Institutional scientific policy maker (Dirección General de Investigación Científica y Técnica, Ministerio de Economía y Competitividad)
- 12:30-12:45 Closing remarks
Agnès Gruart, SENC President-elect